LET THERE BE LIGHT!

Your HOA has been working hard to keep Foxwood a beautiful place to live. With the help of some dedicated homeowner volunteers, trees have been trimmed, trails have constantly been cleaned and most recently, the lights at the main entrance have been repaired. (A BIG THANK YOU to Mike Little and Tony Wood for their tireless work on beautifying Foxwood!)

✂ MONTHLY MAINTANCE TIP ✂

Water heaters have a life expectancy of about 15 years. Regularly servicing yours can help ensure it does its job and lasts for as long as possible. In addition to checking the pressure valve for possible leaks, the water tank will need to be drained at least a couple times per year to clear it of any debris. Checking the anode rod is another essential part of water heater maintenance.

SNEEZIN' SEASON

ARE YOU EFFECTED BY SPRING ALLERGIES? POLLEN COUNT IS AT AN ALL-TIME HIGH, HERE ARE SOME TIPS TO SURVIVING ALLERGY SEASON

BREATHE CLEAN, NON-OUTDOOR AIR

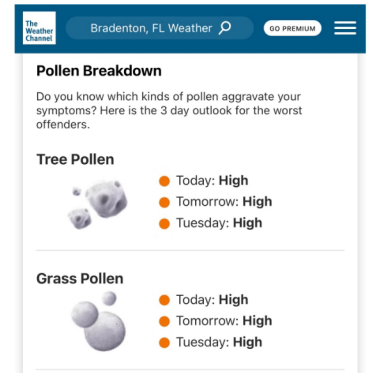

The biggest issue with spring allergies is tree pollen, and the first defense is within your own home. It can be so tempting to want to open the windows and let in that cool spring breeze inside. But if you are allergic to pollen, this is going to cause your symptoms to flare up. Try closing the windows and using your air conditioning when pollen counts are high.

BE AWARE OF HIGH POLLEN COUNT DAYS

If pollen is your enemy in the spring, make sure you open that weather app and check the daily pollen count. On days when it's really high, try not to go outside or be outside for long periods of time. Also avoid going outside when it's windy, as pollen will be much more likely to get all over you and in your lungs.

TAKE EXTRA POLLEN PRECAUTIONS

On those days when the pollen count is high, make sure to remove the clothes and shoes you wear outside once you come home. Try to leave the outside outside as much as possible. Brush your hair or even shower if you spent a long time outdoors
